

Design Developer

Your job reviews the design and layout of the WebQuest. Is it easy to navigate? Are the graphics appropriate or overwhelming? Is the layout of the site inviting and friendly? Are their misspelled words in the site?

	Excellent 4	Average 3	Needs Improvement 2	Poor 1
Layout	The WebQuest is laid out in sequential order and is easy for students to navigate	The WebQuest is in sequential order, but students may have to scroll through a lot of text	The layout is not well organized. Students get confused as to where they have to go next	No organization, students cannot follow
Design	Design of site is friendly and inviting. Not overwhelming when opened	Design may have some bright colors or other features that are distracting, but still relevant	Design is full of random and relevant features, and may distract the students from the task at hand	Design is "loud" where it distracts students and they are more focused on the design and not the mission
Graphics	Graphics are minimal and essential to the site. There are not too many to slow the downloading of the page	Graphics are relevant but may be excessive, slowing the page from loading	Graphics are random, don't have much in common and take a long time to download	No pattern to the graphics. There are so many that the student becomes easily distracted
Grammar/Language	Language is grade level appropriate and easy for students to follow	Language may be grade level appropriate, with students needing some clarification	Language is difficult for grade level. Some errors found in site	Language is written for any grade level and not grade specific, therefore making it difficult for some students. Many misspelled words

Return to WebQuest Home Page

Last modified April 10, 2001 by NMZ